One of the boldest voices in the #NewDallas movement, HeadHuncho Amir continues his unstoppable rise with the release of his latest single, “New Dallus” — out now on all streaming platforms. The track celebrates a cultural shift in the Dallas rap scene, where up-and-coming artists are choosing collaboration over competition and building a movement together — emphasizing the “us” in Dallas.

“New Dallus” follows the release of Amir’s gritty “10 Figures” music video, taken from his breakout debut EP Still Ain Nun Bigger, which introduced listeners to his raw authenticity, lyrical ambition, and street-hardened storytelling. With each release, Amir reinforces his place as one of the city’s new leaders — a voice not only of the hustle, but of unity.

Adding even more momentum to his breakout year, HeadHuncho Amir will hit the road this August as a supporting act on EST Gee’s upcoming national tour, bringing his Dallas-bred energy to a national stage.

Whether in the booth or on stage, HeadHuncho Amir continues to prove that his name belongs in the conversation — and he's bringing the city with him.
